WASHINGTON, DC, Jul 24 (MARKET WIRE) --
"Through the sluggish economy, it seems that we have found a way to continue to grow. While many businesses are downsizing, we are in a state of growth," says Chris Colaluca, CEO of Metropolitan Events. Metropolitan Events has seen its share of ups and downs in the first two quarters of 2008. Our clients love our unique approach to marketing and advertising. Our interaction with our clients and their customers not only creates new business, it establishes customer loyalty for our clients. This success has put Metropolitan Events in a unique position of growth in today's economy.

Metropolitan Events has opened two new offices in the first two quarters, including Baltimore, MD, and Salt Lake City, UT. With a strong core of leaders in all of our markets, we are looking for an even stronger finish this year. The third quarter will see three new offices in Seattle, WA, San Francisco, CA and Harrisburg, PA. With new markets, new offices and new clients, our goals remain consistent. We are aggressively pushing forward with our client acquisition and development. While our business has plenty of work to do with the present portfolio, our research is exploring new industries to apply our explosive marketing approach.

"This is the most exciting time our company has seen in the new millennium, but Metropolitan Events has even better times on the horizon."

-- Chris Colaluca.
